

ASHRAE Handbook Online - Chapter Links and Advertisements

The Handbook is a system designer's best resource to verify applications and best practices. It provides the most reliable and trusted reference source for HVAC&R technical information and gives you timely exposure of your products and services to match engineers' design needs.

- ASHRAE Online Handbook is a paid-only opportunity. Subscribers can pay a yearly fee for access or chose it as an ASHRAE membership benefit.
- ASHRAE Handbook Online has more than 7,000 paid subscribers. And subscriptions are increasing.
- Volumes cover Refrigeration, HVAC Applications, Systems & Equipment and Fundamentals.

Your company can use chapter links and banner ads to reach engineers while they research through the Handbook.

- A link on the master list and three chapters of the Handbooks is $3485 net per year. Additional chapter links are $100 each per month.
- Keyword searches and banner ad advertising rates are $600 net CPM.

The screenshot shows the ASHRAE Handbook Online website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'ASHRAE Handbook Online - Handbook - Home' and tabs for 'I-P Edition' and 'SI Edition'. A search bar is located in the top right. Below the navigation, there is a 'Commercial Resources' sidebar with a list of companies including A-J Manufacturing Co., Inc., AERCO International, and others. The main content area features the ASHRAE logo and the title 'ASHRAE® Handbook ONLINE (I-P Edition)'. Below the title, there is a paragraph describing the handbook as a recognized repository of current engineering procedures and practices. There are several section headers for different volumes: '2023 HVAC Applications', '2022 Refrigeration', '2021 Fundamentals', and '2020 HVAC Systems and Equipment'. Each section has a brief description of its content. At the bottom of the main content area, there is an 'Additional Features' section mentioning spreadsheets, extra chapter content, videos, etc. On the right side of the page, there are two promotional banners. The top one is for 'ASHRAE Learning Institute' and 'Advance Your Career Today!', featuring a person working at a computer and listing benefits like 'Validation', 'Recognition', and 'Pride'. The bottom one is for 'Your Cost-Effective Training Solution'.
